Miss Agnes Spelsby of Waterbury was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Miss Marion Taylor of Marshfield visited friends in the city today.

Miss Rule Angell of Brookfield visited with friends in the city yesterday.

Arthur Paradis and George Jacques have returned home from a visit of a few days with friends in Swanton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ingalls and child of Fairfield, Me., are visiting in the home of Mrs. Ingalls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Melcher, of Park street.

George Jacobs, who has been identified with the livery business in Barre for many years, has leased the barn on South Main street vacated by James Gow, who is retiring from the livery business. Mr. Jacobs has reopened the stable for the accommodation of transients and for the purpose of boarding horses.

Nothing definite had been decided in the matter of arranging for a British recruiting rally, although it is probable that it will be held in the city on Friday evening. A large audience gathered last Thursday evening to greet Capt. Louis Keene and Lieut. Clark, and when they arrived, too late to address the meeting, they indicated that they might be able to return within a week. Plans for the recruiting rally are to be submitted from Springfield, where the British mission in Vermont has its headquarters, and an announcement from there is expected tonight or to-morrow.

An instance of youth's inherent honesty is related by a Washington street man who encountered a small boy yesterday who had picked up a roll of eight $10 bills near the corner of Hill street and Mount Vernon place. The lad was diligently seeking the owner and had gone so far in his search as to accost everyone on the street. The man who relates the story suggested that the money might be the property of a person who looks after several real estate parcels in Mount Vernon place. Inquiry afterward developed the information that the man's surmise was correct. The small boy had located the loser and restored the money.

Candidates for the Goddard seminary baseball team held the first outdoor practice yesterday afternoon, when a large number of players answered the call. During the past week, the players have been practicing to some extent in the gymnasium, where a cage has been placed, although no batting practice could be held there. There are only three available players from last season's nine, they being Tryon, who will do the bulk of the catching this season, "Nip" Smith at second, and Jacobs in the outfield, although there are several players of other prep school experience among the candidates for the various positions. Kelley and Evans appear to be the most promising hurlers of the team and it is likely that they will be the mainstays of the pitching staff during the season. Jacobs is the captain of the team.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Mrs. Henry Davis has sold her farm near Road pond to C. S. Cushman of Barre and papers have been signed. Mr. Cushman will move some time this spring.

Edwin Prescott has rented his farm on the road to Chelsea formerly owned by Charles Staples, to George T. Colby, who will sublet the house and sufficient land for a garden if a suitable tenant appears.

Mr. and Mrs. Erskine P. Rowell, who moved from here to Barre two years or more ago, are now in Hartford, Conn., where Mr. Rowell is at work in Colt's armory.

A ladies' quartet has been formed in the M. E. church, composed of Mrs. G. W. Keeling, Miss Arlene Jeffords, Mrs. Nina Jewett and Mrs. W. B. Jones. They sang several selections very acceptably on Easter Sunday.

The "bachelor girls" of this village will hold an old-fashioned kitchen junket in the lower rooms of the granite hall on Friday evening next, April 5. Good music. Proceeds for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Horace Lasell has finished work for Herman E. Smith, having been employed there since last fall.

Those wishing to buy coal should apply at once to Charles M. Seaver, who has the necessary blanks to be filled out. This was to have been done before April 1st, but the blanks have not just been received. Be prepared to state how much coal you usually buy, how much is necessary for a year's supply. It is expected that orders up to six tons will be filled in full, but that orders for a larger amount will only be filled in part at first. It is important that the matter be attended to at once.

As the town appropriated $500 for state road work at the annual meeting, it is expected that work of this kind will be done and probably on the main road between Barre and Brookfield. A good part of this is already state road, but there remain some places to be widened and one stiff grade that the traveling public would like to see improved.

The selectmen will meet at the office of the town clerk on Friday forenoon, April 5, to pay bills.

MONTPELIER

Mrs. A. C. Sterling Died Last Evening at Heaton Hospital

Mrs. Mary Turner Sterling, wife of A. C. Sterling, died at Heaton hospital Monday evening after a few weeks' illness of cancer, for relief of which an operation was performed some four weeks ago. She was born in Lincoln in 1878, a daughter of Charles and Emily Turner. Her early life was passed in that town, but after her marriage to Mr. Sterling they moved to Warren, where they lived for several years and then came to Montpelier. She was a member of Rob Morris chapter, Order of Eastern Star and has a large circle of friends in Montpelier and Warren. She is survived by her husband and two children, Leslie and Richard; also by a sister, Mrs. William G. Shaw of Bethel. The funeral takes place from her late home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. S. F. Blomfield officiating. The burial will be in Green Mount cemetery.

Three applications were received to-day at the navy recruiting office in Montpelier, but two of them were by mail, so that the men were advised that they would have to come to Montpelier for examination. The applicants are Harold Bigelow of Washington, who is a red, while the written applications were Raymond Hayward of Derby and Ernest Goodrich of Newport.

The four-year-old son of Mr. Mini of Charles street wandered away from home Monday afternoon, having crossed the city before anyone took notice that he did not know where he was going. He was recognized at the police station and sent home by a friend.

A daughter was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Harry White. Mr. White is with the 5th Pioneer regiment in Spartanburg, S. C.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lacaille of Moretown, both of whom are well known in Montpelier.

Frank J. Marshall will be laid up for some time with an injured arm which he cut by falling on glass Sunday night at his home while walking in the dark in a shed.

O. L. Martin of Plainfield, who was in the city Monday afternoon on his way to Boston, states there will not be much sugar made this year, unless there is a marked change in the weather.

Because most of the older students in Montpelier high school will be leaving about May 1 for farms, it looks as though there would not be much of a baseball team at the school this year. No schedule has been arranged owing to that fact. However, Prin. Edwards expects that he will be able to play some games. At Montpelier seminary conditions are different. There the chances are excellent for a fast team. Prof. Maiden, who has charge of athletics, said a few days ago that he looked for a good team, of which Granai will be captain.

Miss Gertrude Jerome, who has been corsetier at the McQueen store for several years, completed her services there Saturday evening and commenced Monday in a similar department in the Fitts store in Barre.

Miss Georgianna Fountain, who has been employed in a granite office in Barre for a few years, has received a call to go to Washington, D. C., where she reports to the chief of the signal corps service, to be employed as stenographer.

A company of 15 girls, mostly from the National Life building, left about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon for the sugar bush of George Lawrence on the Berlin road, where they enjoyed sugar on snow. The carried with them plain doughnuts, pickles and other articles of food to add to the perfection of the occasion.

The shortage of flour became acute with the Cross & Son bakery the latter part of last week, but this week the company is feeling better, for on Monday afternoon it received notice that 100 barrels of flour had arrived at the railroad station for the company, while 300 barrels more are within a few miles, practically speaking, of Montpelier. Local merchants look for another shortage of sugar, but this week one pound per person is being sold under the card system.

The annual meeting of the Montpelier Gun club occurred Monday evening, at which the following officers were elected: President, H. B. Moulton; vice-president, P. J. Jerome; secretary and treasurer, C. H. Barr; field captain, Mrs. B. J. Harmon; executive committee, D. M. Barely and F. E. Adams of Barre. A few applications for membership were received. It was voted to retain a club membership with the state organization. Dr. Burr was named as a delegate to attend the annual state meeting in Morrisville in July.

The report of the fatal accident at the powder plant in Swanton, in which Nellie Hemingway and Dora Savage were killed, has been received at the commissioner of industries office.

Prof. L. H. Beach, who has charge of the work in trade schools in Vermont, has gone to Boston for a conference upon that kind of work. He will visit Worcester and Springfield, Mass., before returning.

Gov. H. F. Graham is in Boston to-day, attending a meeting in which Vermont is interested and will return to the state capital to attend the meeting of the board of control at Brandon. He has appointed as justice of peace, Pliny R. Norton of Addison, in place of Luman C. Sawyer, deceased.

A meeting of the creamery commission will be held in the city tomorrow.

But it was fun just the same. I have run along roads that were close against walls of ancient, fallen down castles, and over moats. I saw some fine castles, and country places, both at a distance and nearby, but the nearby ones were almost always in the woods, so I only caught a sight of them once in a while and did not have much chance to look them over.

Now I haven't heard from very many of my friends or relatives and the most I live on over here is the mail from home. Although the food we get here is exceptionally good, any man in the outfit would skip a day's feed to get a few letters from home. So be sure to write often and tell me all about the country out there."
